

Carrion Crow (Corvus corone)

Status: Common breeder

Current trend: A widespread and common species throughout Ayrshire, Carrion Crow numbers have increased in upland areas due to the large-scale afforestation. It is likely that some of the gaps shown on the distribution map contain breeding Carrion Crows. It is an occasional breeder offshore on islands such as Lady Isle and Ailsa Craig.

Follow up: Continued monitoring of breeding numbers and distribution.