

Guillemot (Uria aalge)

Status: Common breeder.

Current trend: The Ailsa Craig population appears to be doing well with the Seabird 2000 figures suggesting a steady increase, although no comparative data has been available since then.

Single individuals have visited the small auk colonies on the South Ayrshire coast but, so far, no proof of breeding has been obtained.

Follow up: Continued monitoring of the Ailsa Craig population.