

Wigeon (Anas penelope)

Status: Rare (and occasional) breeder

Current trend: There remains only one area, in East Ayrshire, where Wigeon has bred in recent years. A few pairs and individuals spend the summer in potential breeding sites, but it has only been proven to breed once.

Follow up: Further visits to potential breeding sites may discover other pairs.