

Barn Swallow (Hirundo rustica)

Status: Common breeder.

Current trend: Barn Swallow is a species whose success is largely attributable to its ability to co-exist with humans, nesting in a large range of industrial, agricultural and dwelling places. No detectable trend has been identified in Ayrshire, with the present population being at least stable.

Follow up: Continued monitoring of the species' range and population.