

Feral Pigeon/Rock Dove (Columba livia)

Status: Common breeder.

Current trend: The survey probably missed some isolated pairs at farmhouses, or on some coastal cliffs, but the largest concentrations appear to be either on lowland farmland, especially where access to cereal stubble is available, or within the larger urban centres. Counts of flocks suggest that the population would appear to be stable at present.

Follow up: Recording of pairs in remote farming areas, and continued flock counts.