

East Ayrshire Coalfield Environment Initiative

The East Ayrshire Coalfield Environment Initiative is a small charity now entering its tenth year of working within East Ayrshire to:

- Enhance the natural environment
- Increase understanding and appreciation of East Ayrshires natural environment and wildlife
- Engage with local communities to increase participation in wildlife conservation

These winter sessions are all indoors and are to produce important resources for wildlife conservation in the area around New Cumnock. We are working with landowners to improve habitat and these sessions will provide resting places for many species being supported through this work.
